

CALL FOR PAPERS MICHAELMAS TERM 2018

(POSTGRAD)

Dear all,

Firstly, we would like to introduce ourselves – Moonyoung Hong, Dearbhaile Houston and Joseph Torres as the incoming conveners for the Staff Postgraduate seminar series for the 2018/19 academic year. We would like to take this opportunity to thank the former conveners, Alexander Jones and Julia O’Connell for organising a brilliant series of speakers last year. We are looking forward to finding an equally rich and diverse range of papers for the year ahead. We are extending this call to the postgraduate community, to all new and continuing researchers, particularly those who have not yet had a chance to take the plunge and present their own research to an academic audience.

The seminar series offers postgraduate students a great opportunity to present their work to staff and fellow researchers in a friendly, supportive and professional environment. Members of the School’s faculty have also traditionally contributed papers discussing their current research projects and have benefited from feedback given by seminar attendees. The series also welcomes distinguished guest lecturers from the academic community outside Trinity College.

Papers are 20 minutes in length and can be on any aspect of your research. If you are interested in presenting, please send an abstract of 200 words to staffpostgradss2018@gmail.com by Wednesday 1st August. The deadline has been shifted to an earlier date as the new Academic Year Structure begins in 2018-19. You can find more information on our Facebook page, TCD Staff Postgraduate Seminars, on Twitter @SeminarsTCD18, or our blog, staffpostgraduate18.wordpress.com

We look forward to seeing you in the new term!

Moonyoung, Dearbhaile, Joe
